HAMPTONS TAKE 2 DOCUMENTARY FILM FESTIVAL SHOWCASES
‘PATRIOCRACY,’
A PROVOCATIVE POLITICAL DOCUMENTARY,
FOLLOWED BY DISCUSSION WITH SPECIAL GUEST KEN RUDIN OF NPR
Saturday, April 21, 8 p.m., Bay Street Theatre, Sag Harbor

Just in time before the April 24 New York State presidential primary, the fifth annual Hamptons Take 2 Documentary Film Festival has scheduled a screening on Saturday, April 21, of the provocative political documentary “Patriocracy,” followed by a discussion led by National Public Radio’s political editor Ken Rudin, who appears in the film.

It all takes place at 8 p.m. at the Bay Street Theatre in Sag Harbor, with a $15 donation requested at the door.

“Patriocracy” is an hour-long documentary which offers a non-partisan examination of Washington dysfunction and the hyperpartisanship which is undermining America’s ability to tackle its most serious problems.

Producer/director is the five-time Emmy Award-winning documentary filmmaker Brian Malone.

"Patriocracy" brings an all-star cast of Senators, members of Congress, top Washington journalists, pundits and those in academia to the screen, giving their candid and comprehensive insights into the factors behind this extreme polarization. It also offers solutions.

Rudin, who will be leading the post-film discussion, is the "Political Junkie" who can be heard every Wednesday on NPR's Talk of the Nation. Having served for nearly 20 years as NPR's political editor, he has covered all aspects of politics including presidential primaries and debates, national conventions, and House/Senate and gubernatorial elections.

The Hamptons Take 2 Documentary Film Festival is scheduled this year for Friday, November 30 through Sunday, December 2. Further information is available at the www.HT2FF website and from HT2FF executive director Jacqui Lofaro at info@HT2FF.com.
