ETHICS REFORM — A SMALL STEP FORWARD

By Carol Mellor and Anne Marshall

The Governor has, for the past two legislative sessions, used the budget process to advance issues important to him. This makes for a rather unusual process. The Governor proposes the legislation, discussions are held among the leaders of the legislature, and the resultant package of budget measures and proposed laws is subject to an up and down vote by the legislative body. Hearings, opportunity for debate, opportunity for organized public input and even adequate opportunity for the legislators to read the proposals before voting on them are sacrificed in an attempt to pass an on-time budget.

One of the issues in this year’s budget process was ethics rules for legislators. The resultant laws which were enacted law provide for:

• stronger and more complete disclosure of outside income
• pension forfeiture risks for all public officials convicted of corruption
• per diem reform which requires a legislator to show that he was actually in Albany as a condition for receipt of per diem compensation
• marginally tighter restrictions on personal use of campaign funds

But the consensus of the League and other good government groups was that these partial solutions are insufficient to fully address the growing problem of Albany corruption and that stronger ethics reforms are required to end the climate of corruption.

The provisions passed do not go far enough:

• The expanded disclosure requirements may not be comprehensive enough to reach all types of income received by attorney/legislators.
• The reform of the per diem system will require legislators to prove their presence in Albany for legislative business, but does not require receipts and thus does little to ensure reimbursement is issued for actual expenses.
• The changes related to personal use of campaign funds accomplish little.

What is notable is what is not in the agreement—legislative compensation overhaul, desperately needed stronger ethics enforcement with greater public transparency of votes, comprehensive campaign finance reform with public financing that closes the LLC loophole and bans all personal use of campaign funds, reduced limits on contributions and housekeeping accounts, and transfers from party committees to candidates, strong disclosure and accountabil-

President’s Message

By Glorian Berk

Our local league is part of a larger organization, within the national, state and county leagues. Every other year, the national and state leagues have a convention at which all local leagues participate. In 2015, the New York State League will hold its 56th biennial convention in Albany, New York on June 5-7. The Hamptons league will be a big presence there.

This biennial convention is a time to meet dynamic leaders from around the state, make new friends and renew old friendships. New leaders learn the basics of league operation and newer league members can be bitten by the “League” bug. It is an opportunity to improve our local league’s use of technology so that we are more effective with less work.

It is also a wonderful exercise of grassroots democracy in action, where delegates representing the local leagues come together to make the important decisions that will guide us through the next biennium including the election of officers and directors, adoption of a budget and bylaws amendments, and the adoption of the state program for 2015-2017.

The Hamptons League will be represented by five delegates: Judy Samuelson, Judi Roth, Carol Mellor, Susan Wilson and Barbara McClancy. Both Carol and Susan are on the State Board but will be representing our league. The agenda for the convention will include two plenary sessions when delegates will vote on the election of officers and directors, adopt a budget, approve any bylaw amendments and approve the adoption of the state program. Dispersed throughout the two days of the convention are workshops addressing a variety of issues. Some of these include League for New Board Members, Creative Management, Advocacy and Issues, Environment Issues – How to Take Action, Youth Programs of Local Leagues, Vote 411 and Public Relations and Social Networking.

Judi Roth will be presenting the work of our Education Committee as part of the Youth Programs workshop. As you can see, our delegates will be very busy and hopefully will bring back some great ideas for improving our Hamptons league.

Awards are given at the convention based on local league submissions. The Hamptons League has submitted two entries: in the education category, our Education Committee’s work with the Southampton Town Youth Court and a group of local Girl Scouts to help them earn their government badge. In the “Thinking Out Of The Box “category, we have nominated our Special Events Committee for their innovative local tours. These events were successful in three ways – attracting non-members to the events, bringing in new members to the League and raising funds. Let’s hope that we bring home one or two awards!

Look for results of this convention in a future Voter.
League Enlightens All on School Merger Issue

By Arlene Hinkemeyer

Proving true to its title, the League’s April 13 forum at Southampton’s Rogers Memorial Library provided participants with plenty of insight on “School Mergers: What You Need to Know.” The noted panel, moderated by LWVH Education Committee chair Judi Roth, was composed of NYS Assemblyman Fred Thiele, on the role of the state; Southampton Superintendent of Schools Dr. Scott Farina (stepping in for School Board President Heather McCallion who took ill), on the financial impact on budgets and taxes; Eastern Suffolk BOCES Chief Operating Officer Dr. Julie Lutz, on the role of BOCES; and Tuckahoe Superintendent of Schools Chris Dyer, on the impact on students and curriculum.

Framing the topic as examining “both the economic and academic impact,” Ms. Roth said it was important to consider the question, “Do the benefits outweigh the costs in the long term and short term?”

Assemblyman Thiele opened by explaining that there are many types of school districts in New York State, all created by the State and all consolidations are governed by state law. However, the state cannot mandate merger; the locality has to decide. At one time there were thousands of school districts in NYS but now about 700. Still, Assemblyman Thiele said his 1st Assembly District, with 21, has the most of any A.D. in NYS. Twelve of the 21 districts have enrollments under 1,000 and thus have high per pupil costs, due to low economies of scale. He recounted three merger initiatives—that of Eastport-South Manor, which succeeded; East...

Senator Ken LaValle and Assemblyman Fred Thiele announced that they have secured $175,000 in the New York State Budget to expand the work of the South Fork Behavioral Health Initiative. This is the second year that this initiative, which focuses on “expanding the breadth and scope of mental health services in our schools” has been funded.

Adam Fine, Principal of East Hampton High School, an advocate for enhanced mental health services for youth, said: “Given the wealth of other matters and issues affecting our State, it is unbelievable that our little corner of the State can receive funding two years in a row. When government works like this, we can save lives.”

The new $175,000 will help implement Phase 2 of the program which will expand the crises services and clinical staff availability established in Phase 1 and will establish a new Community Behavioral Healthcare Collaborative.

Joining this program and helping to secure funding have been Suffolk County, Southampton Hospital, Stony Brook Hospital, South Fork Towns, South Fork School Districts, the Family Service League and mental health care providers. This initiative, galvanized by youth suicides and many stories of limited access to services, is a new, unprecedented community-based effort. “These funds will enable us to continue our efforts to provide critical mental health services for adolescents on the East End”, said Robert S. Chaloner, President and CEO of Southampton Hospital.

Members of our Health Committee have attended meetings of this Behavioral Health Initiative and have lobbied for its expansion.

Government Committee Report

By Estelle Gellman

The Government Committee is being revitalized and all interested League members are invited to join us. The Committee members research issues being considered by governmental bodies, observe town board meetings, speak to civic groups and lobby our representatives. The committee studied the Council/Manager model of government, which led to the LWVH’s support for the adoption of a Town Manager in East Hampton, and is currently looking into the consolidation of the disparate election days for local elections. The committee also leads our participation in studies of government issues sponsored by the National and NY State Leagues.

The Government Committee will be meeting on April 29th at 10:30 a.m. in the Literacy Room at the Hampton Library. We hope you can join us. If you are interested in joining the committee but can’t make the meeting, please contact me, Estelle Gellman, at government@lwvhamptons.org

Meeting our Students Who Are Going to Albany

by Judi Roth

On a cold rainy day in late April, Nancy Walters-Yvertes and I visited Southampton High School to meet the two selected students who will be representing our League at the State’s “Students Inside Albany” program. When we left although the sun still wasn’t shining, our spirits certainly were.

Senior Sarah Pierson and Junior William Taylor Reddick are such terrific kids. Sarah will be going to Gettysburg College where she plans to major in political science and wants to become a legislative attorney. She has already been to Albany where she lobbies for the American Heart Association.

William wants a career in business, finance and politics and is doing an internship in a community service organization. Of course William also plays the drums, bass and violin and Sarah’s favorite musicians are Bruno Mars and the Jonas Brothers.
League Enlightens All on School Merger Issue

Moriches-Center Moriches, which did not go forward; and the present Southampton-Tuckahoe discussion (which has failed twice at the polls). Mergers throughout the state have had difficulty winning approval if there are winners and losers; both sides need to win.

Dr. Farina recounted the process whereby the schools had undertaken a feasibility study which examined the academic and economic impact of merger. The first straw vote on October 29, 2013 passed in Tuckahoe and failed in Southampton. Then State Senator Ken LaValle and Assemblyman Thiele developed a bill to help ease the school tax increase in Southampton over a 10-year period. The second straw vote on November 18, 2014 also failed in Southampton but by a smaller margin. “It is in the best interest of our school districts, and we would like to merge but have no plans to bring it back,” concluded Dr. Farina.

Dr. Lutz first described the work of ESBOCES as one of 37 Boards of Cooperative Educational Services in NYS, who function as arms of the State Education Department. ESBOCES educates 5,000 students, many in Special Education and Career & Technical Education; 5,000 in adult education; and also provides professional development, curriculum support and back office shared services for school districts within its boundaries. She provided a brief history of mergers in NYS, the elements of success or failure, and the role of BOCES as facilitators,

Mr. Dyer explained the strong merger support in Tuckahoe because of its downward cash flow problem, with over 27% of its budget allocated for student tuition to Southampton and BOCES. He listed the many academic, technological, extracurricular, and community benefits of a merger, as provided in the feasibility study, and said that Tuckahoe is strongly committed to providing a “quality, efficient and effective” education.

In the audience of approximately 70 people were Superintendents of Schools, school officials, school board members, parents and League members. A Tuckahoe board member and parent of four children asked Thiele if he could extend the gradual 10-year tax increase for Southampton homeowners to 20 years or beyond, because it might help increase the yes vote. Thiele said it may well be a worthwhile attempt. The forum ended on that positive note.
Information Items
The Hamptons League is applying for a state award in two categories, Youth Services and Fundraising/Special Events. Judy Samuelson is completing the applications.

Upcoming Events
• April 13 PIM: (Public Information Meeting) Education Committee presents a panel addressing school mergers.
• April 24: fundraiser luncheon with Gail Sheehy at Cowfish Restaurant.
• May 17: LWVH Annual meeting.
• June 8: PIM on drinking water choices.

Annual Members Meeting, May 17, 2015 at the Southampton Cultural Center
The following were reviewed and approved for presentation to the full membership:
• The annual proposed budget, 2015-2016
• The Nominating Committee submitted the new slate of officers
• The Bylaws and Non-Partisan Policy Committee presented suggested changes to both documents.
The Board reviewed and approved for presentation at the annual meeting.

Discussion Items
• State Convention is June 5 to 7, 2015. Carol Mellor and Sue Wilson will attend representing the State League. We will send Judy Samuelson, Judi Roth and Barbara McClancy.
• The Betty Desch Scholarship will be awarded at the annual meeting. The Education Committee is in the process of reviewing applications. The deadline for submissions is April 15, 2015.
• In light of the fact that National has raised the PMP by $1.00, should we raise our annual dues? After a brief discussion the item was referred to the Membership Committee for review and presentation to the Board.
• The state League’s proposed position update concerning the selection of state delegates for the 2017 NYS Constitutional Convention was discussed and unanimously approved.
• Southampton Village Mayor Mark Epley has raised the issue of unifying different dates for local elections. This issue will be reviewed jointly by the Voter Services and Government committees. We are interested in pursuing this with other Suffolk County leagues.
• Judy Samuelson proposed eliminating the Calendar because the short lead time before publication and the fact that many events are separately highlighted makes the Calendar redundant. This proposal was approved.

Committee Reports
Special Events: The committee is reviewing the particulars for the Gail Sheehy lunch. They are planning an “Amazing Amagansett” tour in June. The fee will be $45.00. The committee is just beginning to discuss a fall event and is open to any and all suggestions.

Voter Services. Anne Marshall and Carol Mellor were contacted by Joe Shaw, publisher of the Press Group about the committee’s help in coordinating political debates. The Voter Services committee will discuss. Anne also reported that the committee covered four swearing in ceremonies for new citizens in March at the Federal Court House.

Education reports that two Southampton students will go to Students Inside Albany in June. They are also having a Students Inside Suffolk County program on two dates in October. One date will have students from the Hamptons and Brookhaven, the other students from Huntington and Smithtown.

The Membership Committee will meet on April 15 to collate the annual mailing for renewals.

Public Relations: Arlene reports that the PIM Trustee meeting on March 9th was announced in Newsday and the Sag Harbor Express. Video of that meeting is currently in rotation on SeaTV. The Gail Sheehy lunch has been mentioned in local papers. Arlene’s project to “Adopt a Road” has hit a snag. The proposed Bluff Rd. in Amagansett is already taken, but Pantigo Road is available. A popular bagel store and many East Hampton town offices are located on that road. The town will erect signs saying the LWV-H adopted the road and they will provide the supplies needed to keep it clean. A motion was made to accept this change of venue, and was approved.
LWVSC Board Meeting: Thursday June 18 at SCCC, Main St., Riverhead

LWVSC Board Meeting with Suffolk County Board of Elections on April 15

Ten LWVSC board members spent two hours with our county BOE to discuss a variety of issues including the NYVoter statewide voter database, early voting, electronic poll books, voter registration processes and enhancements, special elections, notifications to voters of upcoming elections, ballot design issues, ballot privacy and security, poll worker recruitment and training, election reporting, SC BOE’s suffolkvotes.com website and the NYS BOE elections.ny.gov and possible enhancements, responsibilities of the county and state BOEs, budget and funding issues, and the election calendar. We learned that the BOE has no control over the administration and scheduling of village, library, and special district elections, and no longer owns any lever machines (they were sold for scrap).

We were most appreciative of the presence of Commissioner Anita Katz (D) as well as two Democratic, one Republican, and one Conservative representative of the SC BOE. (Unfortunately the new Republican Commissioner, Nick LaLota, was not present at our meeting.)

Our discussions were frank and engaging but ultimately disappointing since a great many of the improvements that we are lobbying for can only be changed via NYS Legislative action - such as the primary schedule as well as the requirement for the full face ballot which severely limits the legibility and design of not only the ballots, but also the type of voting machine available (an example– the full face paper ballot in 2015 for the towns of East Hampton and Southampton will be 30+” long). The SC BOE feels that New York State will be one of the last states to embrace innovation in voter registration, and feel that early voting is costly, complicated, and unlikely to be implemented.
Food Safety Ideas

By Joanne McEvoy-Samborn
Source unknown,

MEASURING CUPS
Before pouring sticky substances into a measuring cup, fill with hot water. Spill out the hot water, but do not dry the cup. Next, add the ingredient, such as peanut butter, and watch how easily it comes right out.

FOGGY WINDSHIELDS
Hate foggy windshields? Buy a chalkboard eraser and keep it in the glove box of the car. When the windows fog up, rub the eraser across the window.

REOPENING ENVELOPES
If you seal an envelope and then you need to include something else inside, just place the sealed envelope in the freezer for an hour or two. Viola, it unseals easily.

CONDITIONER
Use your hair conditioner to shave legs. It’s cheaper than shaving cream and leaves your legs really smooth. It is also a great way to use up a conditioner that you bought but do not like when you tried it on your hair.

GET RID OF ANTS
Put small piles of cornmeal where you see ants. They take it “home”, they cannot digest it and so it kills them. It might take a week or so, especially if it rains, but it works and you don’t have to worry about pets or small children being harmed by insecticides.

Brothers. Both students are very excited to go to Albany, to meet other students and to learn about the legislative process. This is Southampton’s year – a few years ago the Education Committee decided that it is easier to select two students from the same school to go to Albany to facilitate their travel arrangements. SIA will take place from May 17-20.

We also had the chance to get to meet Director of Guidance, Kim Rodriguez, who was helpful to making the student selection. Ms. Rodriguez wrote of Sarah and Will: “They are extraordinary young people who make us proud on a regular basis – outstanding in academics, character, dedication, work ethic and selfless service”. We also talked with Ms. Rodriguez about the planned “Students Inside Suffolk County” program and she even called the school business office while we were there to find out how the 5 East End schools could share bus transportation to take some 25 students to Hauppauge in October – and found out it can be done!

Nancy and I had a wonderful conversation with Amy Pierson, Sarah’s mother, who works for the school district and had arranged for a reporter from the Southampton Press to come and take some photos of us and the kids. Our conversation turned to school mergers, the difference between being “born here” and only living here “30 years” to the timing of school board elections. Mrs. Pierson, provided us with the photo used here and wrote to me:

"Judi, it was such a pleasure to meet you and Nancy yesterday! As Sarah’s mom I am very excited that she will have this opportunity and am thankful to your organization for making this happen for her and Will." All in all a wonderful way to spend a rainy afternoon!

Natural Resources and Health Committees: The PIM on June 8 is called “Drinking Water: Faucet, Filter or Bottled - Informed Choices.” The panel will consist of a representative from SCWA on testing, the SC Health Department on testing wells, a representative from water filter manufacturers and someone from the bottled water industry. There will also be a water tasting event, comparing the different types of water. The event will be at the Parrish Hall at Southampton Hospital at 6:30 PM.

Calendar

May 2015

Change in Format of The Voter

Many of you may have noticed that the Calendar of Events which customarily has appeared on the next-to-last page of the Voter was different in the April issue. We hope you liked the change. As noted in that issue, committee meeting dates are often not available at the time of publication and therefore often missing from the calendar. Committee Chairs are the best source of information for meeting dates and their numbers and emails are listed on the last inside page of the Voter. This information is also on our website, www.lwvhamptons.org.

The Board discussed and decided that printing Town Board meeting dates each month is information easily found on-line on Town websites, www.town.east-hampton.ny.us and www.southamptontownny.gov.

We hope to be able to use this extra space by allowing our committee chairs to publish the longer articles they tend to write and to include more details about upcoming events. As always we welcome your thoughts and ideas on these topics and solicit articles you would like to submit.
